Recfishwest report for AAAWA Delegates Meeting 19 June 2012

Commonwealth Marine Parks

After some years under consideration, the final boundaries for Commonwealth Marine Parks have been announced. These start in Commonwealth waters at 3 nautical miles so do not affect shore based fishing.

Remember, the areas which affect fishing are the sanctuary (no fishing, no take, green coloured) zones. There is usually no impact on recreational fishing in the remainder of the zones or areas outside the Marine reserves which is the great majority of the area accessible to most recreational fishers.

Details for the Final South-west Commonwealth Marine Reserves Network are in

<http://www.environment.gov.au/coasts/mbp/reserves/sw-region.html> and Final North-west

<http://www.environment.gov.au/coasts/mbp/reserves/nw-region.html> These show the locations of the various zones with coordinates.

<http://www.environment.gov.au/coasts/mbp/reserves/pubs/sw-zoning-scheme.pdf> is an overview of the proposed zoning scheme for the Marine Reserves Network proposal, and shows what's allowed and what's prohibited in the different coloured zones.

Most articles and media statements are misleading, inaccurate, alarmist, mischievous, or aimed at stirring up people. Sure there are suspect political reasons for some decisions, and some are not supported by sound science aimed at the real threats, however talking of "vast areas locked away from recreational fishermen" is simply wrong and alarmist.

There's little more time wasting than lobbying or arguing "don't do xxxxx" when there are no plans to do that xxxxx. or saying "you should allow yyyyy", when in fact it is already allowed. People who raise concerns based on inaccurate or misleading information don't get a hearing, and this will backfire on the source of that misleading information. If there is a good case, then it does not need to be exaggerated.

State-wide management proposals for recreational fishing

Recfishwest received about 980 submissions on the Fisheries Management Paper (FMP) covering the Department of Fisheries' proposals for recreational fishing throughout WA. This number is many times what has been received on other calls from Dept of Fisheries for public comments.

There was a clear rejection of the proposals for changes to possession limits, and significant opposition to proposed changes to some changes to bag limits and grouping or placing of some species.

RFW is preparing a summary and will be proposing some alternatives using the opinions received.

RFW Board structure and communications with Associations

RFW executives gave an important presentation at the May AAABA Delegates' meeting on 15 May. The RFW Board will change, with a reduced number of Board people and emphasis on the special skills required to deal with the high level strategic matters, while the employed RFW staff will handle the operational matters.

Changes to the RFW Constitution are being drafted for presentation to Associations and approval at a Special General Meeting, with aim of elections at an Annual General Meeting in September.

The Associations such as AAABA will no longer be able to nominate people to be elected as Association Board members of Recfishwest. However as members of Recfishwest, they still will be able to nominate and vote for individuals to be Board members. Interactions with Associations will probably be by a special "Reference Group" in addition to the normal public interactions with recreational fishers.

I am the current AAABA Board member of Recfishwest. I advise the Delegates that I do not intend to nominate for a position on the new RFW Board in 2012.

This report has been prepared by Terry Fuller, your Recfishwest Board Member for the Australian Anglers Association working voluntarily on your behalf. Contact Terry on 9447 4545 or email terryfuller@inet.net.au with any questions or comments.

Business Arising from RFW Report

- Terry advised that RFW have drafted a response to the Fisheries Management Paper and it is with the board for consideration.
- Discussion followed the nomination of future RFW board members, some of whom will be appointed and some of whom will be elected, with the expectation that those nominated will have specialist skills to contribute to the board.
- John Curtis expressed some concern that associations such as AAABA would have a reduced say on RFW matters and AAABA will need to be proactive in this matter.
- John thanked Terry for his contribution as a board member of RFW.

Recording Officer Report

- John Curtis referred to a recent application for an 8 kg spangled emperor. When John contacted the applicant, he admitted that the weighing scales used could not be verified and John has not heard back from him yet. As per record application rules, the application will lapse after 90 days.
- John received an enquiry from Peter Landsbury regarding a record application for a Carp caught 11 years ago in Victoria. John will reply to Mr Landsbury explaining that a 90 day limitation applies to record applications. (The application must be received by the recorder within 90 days of capture, however the recorder has the right to extend this period under extenuating circumstances)

Competitions Officer Report

12. GENERAL BUSINESS

Shooters and Fishers Party

Paul Longo (Perth Offshore Boating Club) sent an email regarding the Shooters Party and suggested this be placed on the agenda for discussion. John Curtis' commented as follows:

- AAABA is an apolitical organisation and does not align itself with any political party
- AAABA strives to work with the government of the day

Gang Hooks

Discussion took place about ganged or snell hooks:

- There is no definition or documentation to refer to
- Many challenges have been about gang hooks in fishing competitions
- One definition is that you can have many hooks as long as its only one bait
- Gang hooks are not defined in the Fish Resources Management Act Regulations
- Associations such as AAABA can draw up its own regulations provide they are within the scope of the fisheries rules
- When a senior fisheries officer was consulted recently, he admitted it was only "his interpretation", which is not acceptable

- John Curtis suggested that a subgroup be formed to prepare a document for submission to the Minister, requesting a clear definition, with a copy sent to Fisheries and Recfishwest.
- The letter will be drafted, distributed to delegates and then finalised.
- John Curtis, Terry Fuller and Peter Osborne will form the subcommittee and report back to the next AAawa delegates meeting.

Surfcasters Anniversary

Saturday 23rd June is the 60th anniversary of the Surfcasters.

13. CLOSE MEETING 9.00

The meeting closed at 9.00 pm. The next Delegates meeting will be held on Tuesday 16th July 2012.
